

out into the yard to see what was going on. He saw no one in the street and returned to the house. Immediately afterwards, his son saw a policeman standing in the street with his weapon pointed at the house. Isuf went out into the yard again. His son saw the policeman jump over the fence, place his rifle against Isuf's chest and pull the trigger. Isuf fell to the ground. The policeman then left, only to return with several other policemen, who started shooting at Isuf where he lay on the ground. One policeman then pulled out the pistol Isuf was carrying at his waist-belt and put it in his hand, to make it look like he was killed fighting. The police then took Isuf's body to a hospital. A few hours later, Isuf's family recovered the body and buried Isuf in the Dragodan cemetery in Prishtinë/Priština.

Later that day, 12 May 1998, Agron succumbed to his wounds. He was laid to rest on 14 May 1998 in the cemetery in his native village of Balloc/Balovac. After his death, his wife gave birth to a daughter.

Hysen (Ahmet) Zogijani

(born 10/03/1957, Albanian from Prishtinë/Priština, warehouseman, four children)

Hysen worked at the Hidrokosmet Company. He lived with his family in Prishtinë/Priština's Dardania/Dardanija neighbourhood. Several weeks before he disappeared, Hysen told his brother that a neighbour had alerted him that he was being followed in a car by a police officer who worked for the State Security Service. On 22 June 1998, at around 18:00h, Hysen left home and went in his car to a nearby grocery store to buy some vegetables. He never came back. His family contacted various institutions of the Republic of Serbia as well as the KLA, but they said they had no information about Hysen. His family still know nothing about his fate. Hysen is registered on the ICRC list of missing persons under BLG-802906-01.
