Salih (Azem) Kajtazi

(born 5/05/1933, Albanian from Klinë e Mesme/Srednja Klina, Skënderaj/Srbica municipality, worker, five children)

Salih worked at the Budučnost roof tile factory in Skënderaj/Srbica. He lived with his family in Klinë e Mesme/Srednja Klina. When Serb forces approached this village on 20 July 1998, Salih, his daughter-in-law and grandchildren fled to their friend's in Prekaz i Epërm/Gornje Prekaze. Two days later [26 July 1998], Salih went to Klinë e Mesme/Srednja Klina to feed the cattle. On the way back, near the Srbica River, Serb forces spotted him and opened fire on him, wounding him in the stomach and legs. Salih managed to get to his house and hide in the basement. His sons Jahir and Bahtir found him there in the evening and transported him on a horse cart to the KLA field hospital in Likoc/Likovac, where he died three hours later. His family buried him later that evening in Prekaz i Epërm/Gornje Prekaze. Two months later [2 September 1998], they transferred his body to the New Cemetery in Klinë e Poshtme/Donja Klina.

Habib (Avdullah) Suhogërlla

(born 18/12/1953, Albanian from Çubrel/Çubrelj, Skënderaj/Srbica municipality, fruit vendor, three children)

Habib was living with his wife Xhejlane, who was pregnant at the time, their children and Habib's parents Avdullah and Shemsije. He provided for his family by selling fruit at the green market. When Serb forces attacked their neighbourhood, Habib moved his family to his sister Hyrije's house in Mitrovicë/Kosovska Mitrovica on 28 July 1998, while he and his father hid in a forest near Çubrel/Çubrelj. Later that day, Avdullah went to the village to feed the cattle. Habib, worried about his father, followed after him, and waited outside the cowshed [Çubrel/Çubrelj]. Avdullah was in the cowshed when he heard several shots being fired. Before long, two soldiers appeared in the cowshed and led Avdullah out. After searching the house and taking some items, the soldiers took Avdullah to the Buliqi neighbourhood and released him. Habib was nowhere to be found. Avdullah went home every day from a forest and waited, but Habib did not appear. Habib's fate remained unknown until 6 February 1999, when two cousins of his found his body at the periphery of the village at the spot called Perroi i Qubrelit/Çubreljski potok (Qubrel Creek) and identified him by his identity card. Habib was buried on 10 February 1999 in the village cemetery.

Kadri (Kadri) Pajaziti

(born 1920, Albanian from Çubrel/Çubrelj, Skënderaj/Srbica municipality, farmer, eight children)

Some time in July 1998 Serb forces stationed themselves in the village of Runik/Rudnik. Kadri's family left Çubrel/Çubrelj and moved in with some relatives in Tushilë/Tušilje for safety, whereas Kadri and his son Emin stayed behind. During the daytime they hid in the wood, returning home in the evening to sleep. On Tuesday, 28 July 1998, Serb forces entered Çubrel/Çubrelj from the direction of Runik/Rudnik. Emin fled with some relatives, but Kadri stayed behind, never to be seen again. When the shooting stopped that evening, some village residents found Kadri's body in front of Osman Çollaku's house. He had been shot twice in the head. They carried his body to his home, but could not bury him because Serb forces were still in the village. When Kadri's son returned to the village on 7 November 1998, he found their house burned and demolished, and his father's mortal remains inside it. He buried his father the following day in a field near the house. After the war, on 25 June 2000, the Pajazitis
